

International
Centre for Development
Initiatives

3RD - ICDI

INTERNATIONAL
WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT
CONFERENCE AND
GOOD GOVERNANCE EMPOWERMENT
TRAINING 2015

@

Ramada Hotel and Suites, London Docklands, United Kingdom

Monday 26th -- Friday 30th October, 2015

About

The International Women's Leadership Development Conference and Good Governance Empowerment Training 2015 is an annual comprehensive capacity-building conference and training for global leaders in development, public-sector, education, civil society; management, governance and other sectors to discuss and learn current issues relating to leadership, development and good governance.

Since 2013, it has grown and created a useful platform for public sector practitioners, education experts, the civil society and world leaders to debate issues that affect and impact women, leadership, management and development. It also utilises purpose-design curriculum capacity-building and teachings on good governance instruments, social accountability and participatory engagements.

The conference provides interactive platforms to engage and discuss collaborative solutions. It focuses to provide opportunity for networking and taking action, and has become a fixture of the global women's leadership and good governance training calendar. The conference consists of a series of collaborative and specially designed sessions and workshops that focus on the year's chosen themes and more.

More than 500 registered delegates, representatives, participants and speakers from across several countries and various sectors and government with perspectives on international and women's leadership, management and good governance development attend each year.

2015 Conference, London UK

The International Women's Leadership Development Conference and Good Governance Empowerment Training will take place on 26th to 30th October 2015 at the Ramada Hotel and Suites London Docklands.

The deadline for paper presenters has now passed, however proposals for poster presentations can be submitted until Friday 31st August 2015.

For more information, download the event brochure visit our website: www.icdi-uk.net

Who should attend

The International Women's Leadership Development Conference and Good Governance Empowerment Training is for public sector practitioners, education experts, the civil society and world leaders to debate, discuss current trends and researches as well as build capacity on leadership, good governance, women's development and social accountability. Participants include but are not limited to:

- Government functionaries, development experts and technocrats
- university vice-chancellors, presidents, rectors and their advisers
- state ministries and college principals and their advisers
- ministers and government representatives – central, regional and local
- journalists – press and media
- civil society policy, program and strategy makers and their advisers
- professional and trade bodies working on leadership, management, social accountability
- those with a responsibility for good governance, women's development and mobilization

What does the Conference and Training offer?

The International Women's Leadership Development Conference and Good Governance Empowerment Training:

- Provides a global network for public sector practitioners, education experts, the civil society and world leaders working in the field of leadership, good governance, women's development, education and social accountability.
- provides a unique and dedicated platform for knowledge and resource sharing
- connects local, national, regional and global agendas
- supports evidence led policy decisions deriving from research and actionable regional dialogues
- Supports global thought leadership and women's development agenda.

Conference/Training Fees

Full Conference and Training Registration Fees is £1999 and includes costs for 5 days programme participation, all training and course materials, 3-daily square meals, refreshments, local transportation and excursion. It does not include International travel costs to and from the programme.

How to Register

Fill the online registration form and make payment online with your debit card or via PayPal and we will initially send you an acknowledgement email, followed afterwards by your official visa and invite letters and other programme documentation once your application has been processed by our programme team. Or just email us at: mailus@icdi-uk.net to signify your interest and we will contact you.

Exhibition

There will be several slots for Exhibition throughout the duration of the conference and training. Interested individuals, Institutions and organizations should email us at: mailus@icdi-uk.net to signify their interest for further Info.

Our Partners

